Vice Chancellor

Lahore College for Women University

Vice Chancellor's Message

It is my proud privilege to lead Lahore College for Women University, a historic institution now ranked in the Times Higher Education World Rankings (2023 & 2024) and QS Asia Rankings 2025. This Annual Report reflects a year of academic distinction, impactful research, innovation through K-BIC, program accreditations, international collaborations, and the launch of new degree programs in AI and IT. Our students have excelled in academics, entrepreneurship, and sports, while our faculty and staff remain the driving force behind these achievements. With Vision 2040 as our guiding light, LCWU continues its journey towards becoming a leading global research university. I am deeply grateful for the collective resolve of our students, faculty, staff, and alumni in advancing the shared mission of LCWU.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

As a premier university for women, LCWU is committed to providing quality education to empower women through knowledge and skills in order to allow and facilitate their active participation in the socio-economic development of Pakistan and to impact the attitudes and beliefs of its graduates through various programs and activities to emerge as responsible, peaceful and tolerant citizens of the world. Since its establishment, as a college and now university, LCWU has grown in terms of enrollment, emerging trends in education and new research, outreach as well as in seeking funding opportunities.

Faculties and Institutes of LCWU have played a key role to effectively impart quality education and conduct solution oriented research for contribution towards the national goals as a socially responsible and productive component of the community.

During this period, LCWU has not only inducted young Ph.D. faculty in various departments but also has trained the existing faculty through the Directorate of Faculty Development and Internationalization (DFDI). Faculty was also sent abroad in technologically advanced countries through grants by HEC and other international organizations like US AID and British Council. LCWU is imparting mandatory trainings to each member of the university i.e. teaching and management personnel to enhance their professional skills.

Focus on mission to educate and train women to play their role in societal development is a primary preference. This involved preparation of agenda and strategies for academic reforms that have a focus on modern methodological approaches affecting a shift from teacher to student-centered learning, on curriculum development and on enhancing evaluation system. This shift includes integration of new teaching/learning approaches that enable the development of critical and creative thinking.

The aim of research is to carry out research through an approach characterized by ethics, autonomy, responsibility and anticipation with focus on applied research, solution oriented and innovative ideas and of commercial use.

Human resource development and capacity building of teaching, administrative and supporting staff is the top priority agenda. The examination system of LCWU has been further strengthened to cater the growing needs of students at both campuses and at the affiliated colleges.

Appropriate infrastructure has been ensured at main campus in Lahore. Addition of new classrooms and laboratories, upgradation and enhancement of hostel facilities, installation of water filter plants for provision of clean drinking water and expediting the rehabilitation of the auditorium. Expansions of libraries, including digital and computing facilities are continuing to meet the growing needs of research and academics of the university.

Development of a rigorous system of internal Quality Assurance is a step forward. We are preparing to be assessed by International Quality Assurance Agencies for world class ranking that LCWU is aspiring for.

LCWU has taken steps to being an entrepreneurial university for its financial sustainability which is going beyond the already complex and long journey of educating students and conducting research.

SECTION 1: ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

- RE-IMAGINING OUR PURPOSE: A RENEWED VISION AND MISSION
- UNIVERSITY GOVERNANCE: ORGANOGRAM

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

Lahore College for Women University, established in May 1922 as an intermediate residential college, was originally housed in a building on Hall Road, Lahore, with strength of 60 students. By 1950, the college strength increased to 600 students and was shifted to the present building on Jail Road. Lahore College for Women by 1922 was affiliated with the University of the Punjab for its undergraduate Programs in 18 subjects. Post graduate classes were initiated in 1940 and Honors classes were introduced in 1949.

Lahore College for Women University, with a full time enrolment of about 14,000 students and a teaching faculty of more than 500 members, is one of the most prestigious institutions of Pakistan. It admits students at the PhD, MS/MPhil, BS/Pharm-D, and Masters and at the Intermediate College levels:

1922 (Establishment of College)

1999 (Degree Awarding Institute)

2002 (Chartered Women University)

RE-IMAGINING OUR PURPOSE: A RENEWED VISION AND MISSION

VISION 2040

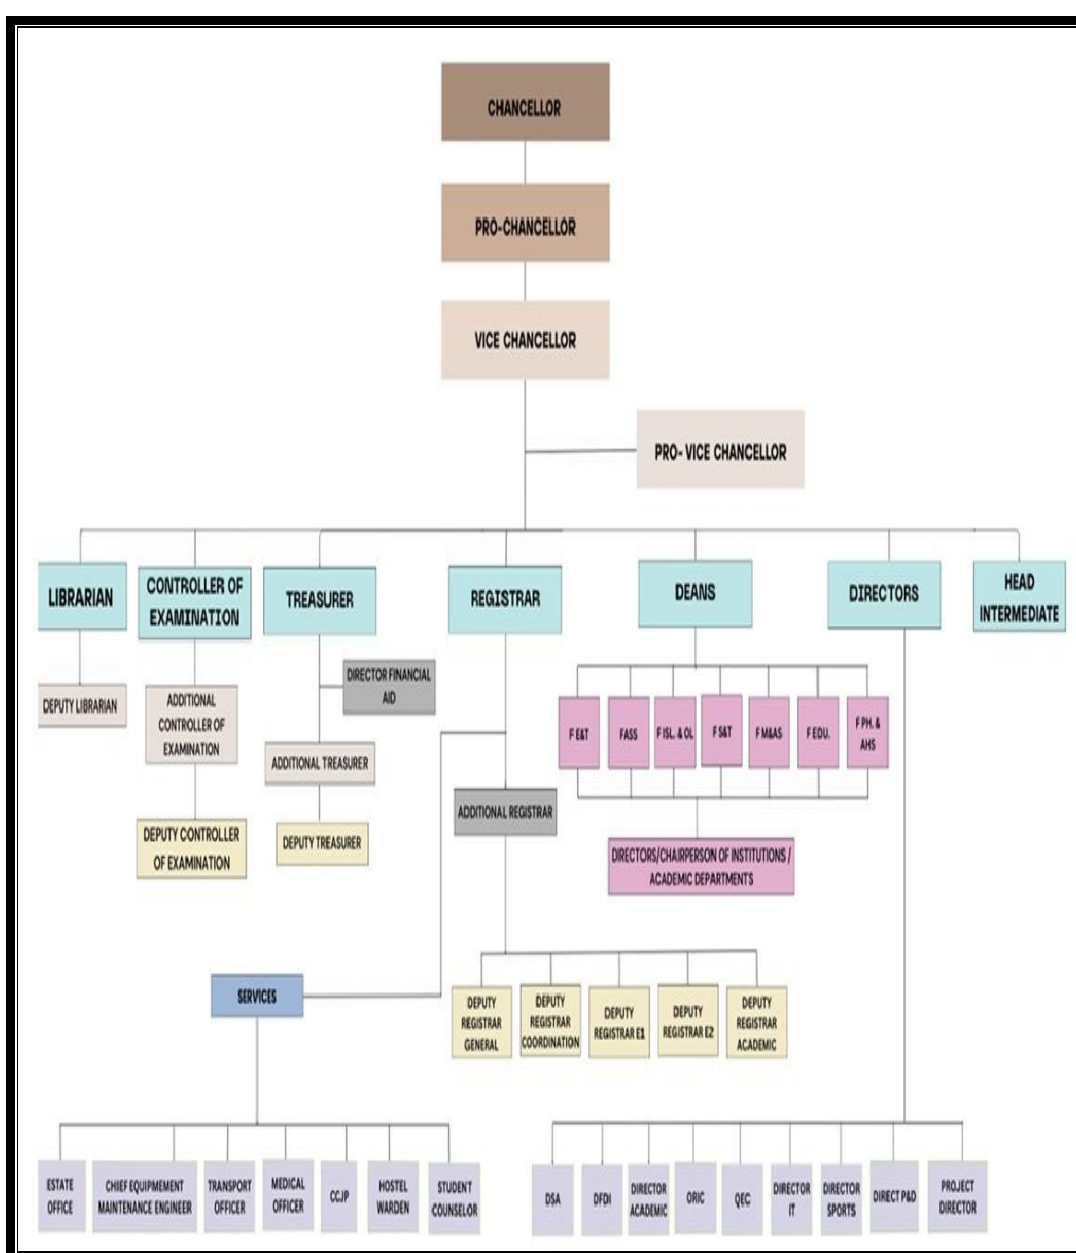

Lahore College for Women University envisages fostering women empowerment through academic excellence, strengthening of good governance and inclusive culture of research and innovation for socio-economic development of the society.

MISSION 2040

- Extensive collaborations between academic and diverse sectors for investment in human & social capital, facilitation of technical adeptness and promotion of knowledge-based economy corresponds to the evolving nature of local and global challenges.
- Staunch commitment towards emerging challenges of climate change, sustainable development and prosperity while upholding integrated strategic planning.
- Promotion of research along with scholarly activities to generate indigenous and global knowledge
- Creating inclusive & equitable environment to engage students from diverse communities and ethnicities to shape them into visionary leaders and distinct professionals.

UNIVERSITY GOVERNANCE: UNIVERSITY ORGANOGRAM

LCWU's governance is supported by several statutory bodies, committees and councils, each playing a specialized role. There are five statutory bodies involved in decision making process at LCWU. The Syndicate is the final authority for taking decisions in the best interest of the University and it is chaired by the Vice Chancellor of LCWU. The statutory bodies' meetings held regularly at LCWU to ensure smooth functioning of the academic and administrative matters. More than 100 Committees are constituted within the University during 2024-2025 to address and resolve different academic / administrative issues of the varsity. University senior faculty / staff members participate in these committees as members or Convener and external members are also taken onboard in case if it is required.

SECTION 2: ADMINISTRATIVE AND DEPARTMENTAL ACHIEVEMENTS

- i. Registrar Office
- ii. Controller or Examination
- iii. Finance

i. REGISTRAR OFFICE

The Registrar's Office of the university serves as the central administrative and academic coordination unit responsible for ensuring the smooth functioning of the institution. It manages academic administration by maintaining university statutes, policies, and academic records, while coordinating with departments on curricula, schedules, and examinations. The office oversees the admission process, registration, and maintenance of student records, as well as the issuance of transcripts, degrees, and verification documents. It supports the university's statutory bodies such as the Syndicate, Academic Council, and Selection Board by preparing agendas, recording minutes, and implementing decisions. The Registrar's Office also handles faculty and staff matters, including appointments, promotions, and service records, and ensures compliance with Higher Education Commission (HEC) regulations and the university's charter. Additionally, it plays a key role in organizing convocations, managing official correspondence, authenticating academic credentials, and liaising with government agencies and other institutions. Through these functions, the Registrar's Office upholds institutional governance, academic integrity, and administrative efficiency within the university.

i. QUALITY ENHANCEMENT CELL

One of the key challenges faced by all Higher Education Institutions is the development, implementation, and sustained maintenance of quality benchmarks across their core performance areas. In response to this need, the Quality Enhancement Cell (QEC) has been established at Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) as a post-accreditation quality assurance mechanism. It serves to ensure continuous performance evaluation, assessment, accreditation, and quality improvement in alignment with national standards. As an integral part of the university structure, QEC is committed to advancing the university's vision by institutionalizing quality assurance processes. Its primary mandate is to develop a system that ensures conscious, consistent, and catalytic improvements in the university's overall performance. The effectiveness of the QEC relies heavily on the active collaboration and cooperation of all stakeholders. Functioning as both a monitoring and evaluative body, QEC also plays a suggestive and facilitative role, formulating intervention strategies and promoting best practices to ensure compliance with established quality standards.

VISITS AND TRAININGS

DIRECTORATE OF ACADEMICS

The Directorate of Academics plays a central role in planning, coordinating, monitoring, and improving the overall academic quality of the University. The core responsibilities of the Director academics generally include the following:

1. Academic Planning and Policy Development

- Implement and monitor HEC's and universities academic policies, procedures, and regulations.
- Prepares proposals for new academic programs and reviews existing ones.
- Ensures alignment of academic activities with the university's mission, vision, and strategic goals.
- Coordinates with faculties and departments for academic planning and curriculum reforms.

2. Curriculum Design and Review

- Oversees the development, evaluation, and revision of curricula across departments.
- Ensures that all programs meet national accreditation and quality assurance standards (e.g., HEC requirements in Pakistan).
- Facilitates Board of Studies, Board of Faculty, and Academic Council meetings related to curriculum approval.

3. Faculty Coordination and Support

- Coordinates academic activities among faculties, departments, and institutes.
- Supports professional development programs, workshops, and training for faculty members.

Monitors academic workload distribution and teaching schedules.

CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

➤ COMPLETION OF GENERAL EDUCATION COURSE APPROVAL PROCESS

The extensive collection of courses developed across the domains of Social Sciences, Natural Sciences, and Arts & Humanities were presented before all statutory academic bodies, including the Boards of Studies, Boards of Faculty, the Academic Council, and the Syndicate. Their final approval officially institutionalized these courses into LCWU's undergraduate programs, ensuring alignment with HEC's Undergraduate Education Policy.

In continuation of the foundational work carried out in the previous academic year, the Office of the Director Academic Planning successfully led to complete academic approval process for General Education course pools.

➤ INTEGRATION OF ACTIVE CITIZENSHIP INTO THE CURRICULUM

A significant curricular enhancement was the institutionalization of the Active Citizenship Program. This initiative was embedded into the General Education course Civics and Community Engagement, allowing undergraduate students to engage in meaningful social and outreach activities as part of their academic experience.

➤ OVERSIGHT OF LEARNING MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (LMS) DEVELOPMENT

The Office of Director Academic Planning provided strategic supervision in the development and implementation of LCWU's Learning Management System, a key module within the broader Campus Management System (CMS). Nearly 5000 university-wide courses were entered into the system, complete with titles, course codes, credit hours, and semester distribution. Instructor accounts were created, and all departments were guided to upload course outlines, learning outcomes, objectives, and reference literature.

➤ DEVELOPMENT AND APPROVAL OF POLICY DOCUMENTS

Two major institutional documents the Admission Regulations 2025 and the Registration Regulations 2025, were drafted by the Director Academic Planning. After extensive consultation with relevant stakeholders, both documents were presented and formally approved by the Academic Council, reflecting the university's commitment to transparent and standardized academic processes.

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS: WORKSHOPS & TRAININGS

Department of Gender and Development Studies

➤ Training on the Effective Implementation of Sexual Harassment Law

A three-day residential training on the Effective Implementation of Sexual Harassment Law concluded on 24 August 2025 at Mehargarh: A Center for Learning. The training brought together participants from across Pakistan, representing public and private sector organizations committed to addressing sexual harassment. Prominent institutions such as the State Bank of Pakistan (SBP), Lahore College for Women University, the Veterinary Research Institute Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, the Institute of Space Technology, Islamabad, PRESTON UNIVERSITY ISLAMABAD, The Centrum Media Group, and a representative from Balochistan Ombudsperson's Office joined us for this training, along with students and lawyers, actively took part in the training. During the sessions, Maliha Husain, Executive Director at Mehargarh and lead facilitator Dr Uzma Ahiq Khan Incharge Department of Gender and Development Studies LCWU, provided in-depth insights into the definition of sexual harassment, as well as the roles and responsibilities of employees, senior management, and committee members under the law. She also elaborated on the procedures and timelines for reporting and resolving cases of sexual harassment within organizations. On the third day they tested participants learning during role plays, as standing Inquiry Committee Members.

Dr Uzma Ahiq Khan Incharge Department of Gender and Development Studies LCWU provided a provincial consultation, discussion on gender equality, financial inclusion, women empowerment, and women's economic empowerment in Pakistan's formal and informal sector for Economic Empowerment Bridging Pakistan's Gender Gap. Women Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Lahore Division UNDP Pakistan Lahore College For Women University - Official Women Development Department Punjab United Nations Development Programme – UNDP Dr. Uzma Ashiq Khan – In Charge, Gender and Development Studies Department, LCWU The session emphasized the significance of women's safety, protection policies, and psychological support systems. Engaging discussions and expert insights shed light on ways to enhance women's security in Punjab.

All the esteemed speakers, faculty and students from Center for Clinical Psychology PU and various departments of LCWU participated in the event. Together, we stand for a safer, empowered future for women various departments of LCWU participated in the event.

➤ Awareness Workshop on Female Pitch Competition & Skills Development Program

Women Development Department Govt of the Punjab in collaboration with Women Development Center LCWU conducted Awareness Session related to Entrepreneurial Female Pitch Competition & Skills Development through Ambassador Program on 11 September, 2025 at Old Student Service Centre. Mr Safdar Abbas-Specialist Research and Development and Ms Zunira Zubair-Specialist Strategic and Planning delivered the session and answered the queries of the students. Dr Uzma Ashiq Khan Focal Person Women Development Center LCWU presented vote of thanks.

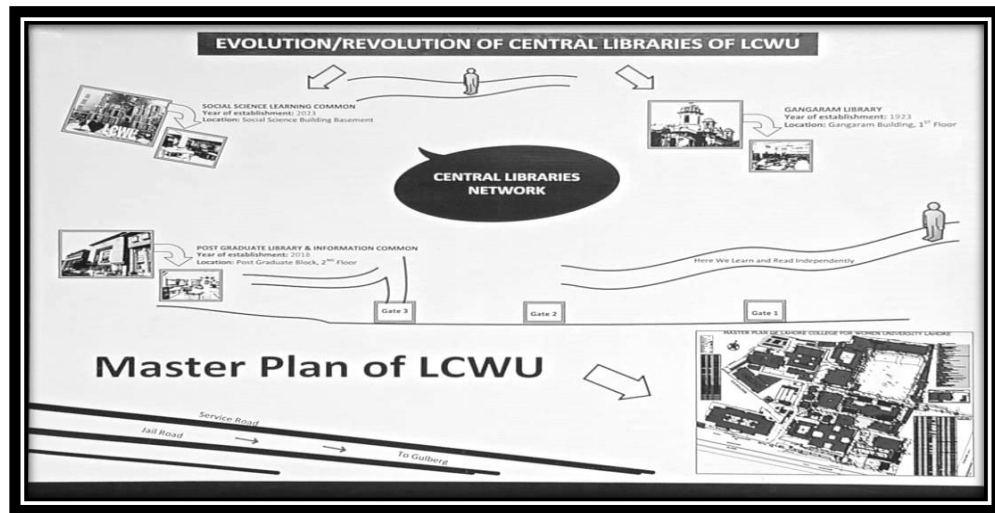

v.LIBRARIES

1. INTRODUCTION:

The Central Library Network of Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) continued to support the academic and research needs of students, faculty, and researchers throughout the academic year 2024–2025. The library system comprises:

- Ganga Ram Library (Central Library)
- Postgraduate Library & Information Commons
- Social Sciences Learning Commons
- Departmental Libraries
- Computer Labs/ Digital Access Points with two main libraries

The Network provides access to print collections, digital knowledge resources, research assistance, and academic integrity services.

2. MISSION:

To provide equitable access to quality information resources, foster research culture, strengthen teaching & learning, and support the scholarly community through innovative library services.

3. LIBRARY STRUCTURE:

- Chief Librarian (BPS-19)
- 03 Professional Librarians (BPS-18)
- 10 Library Assistants
- Support staff & student volunteers
- 03 Computer Labs
- Central + Departmental Libraries

4. Major Highlights of the Year

4.1 Extraordinary Achievement: Successful Automation of Postgraduate Library & Information Commons

During the reporting year, the Postgraduate Library & Information Commons achieved a landmark milestone by transitioning from a traditional manual system to a fully automated library environment. Notably, this transformation was accomplished without any internal technical support or additional budget, demonstrating exceptional initiative, resourcefulness, and commitment to service innovation.

Through this successful automation initiative:

- The complete circulation data has been digitized and integrated into the library management system.
- Book issuance and return operations are now fully computerized, ensuring improved accuracy, transparency, and efficiency.
- The legacy manual circulation system has been phased out, significantly reducing processing time and human error.
- Only library card generation remains partially manual, while all other core circulation functions have shifted to an automated workflow.

This development marks a major step forward for the Central Library Network, enhancing user services, optimizing resource management, and aligning with global library standards of modernization and digital transformation. It reflects the university's dedication to advancing a technologically empowered learning ecosystem and fostering a culture of continuous improvement.

4.2 Infrastructure & Facility Enhancement

Improved reading hall facilities (lighting, ventilation, seating)

4.5 Digital Library – HEC DL (As Focal Person)

The National Digital Library (DL) is an HEC-funded initiative providing universities and research institutions across Pakistan with access to high-quality international scholarly literature through electronic delivery. This ensures faculty, researchers, and students can access peer-reviewed journals, databases, and articles across diverse disciplines. HEC shared bi-annual usage reports with all member institutions to help them monitor and maximize utilization of subscribed databases.

Usage Statistics

The following usage report reflects “Downloads” only (searches and abstract views are excluded) for January–June 2025 at Lahore College for Women University (LCWU).

HEC-DL DOWNLOAD STATISTICS (Jan–Jun 2025)

A) BASIC RESOURCES (Bundle Package)

Resource	Downloads
Wiley	14,594
INFORMS	17
Springer Link	34,476
Taylor & Francis	11,052

Springer Link, Wiley, and Taylor & Francis reflected the highest usage volumes, indicating strong dependence on multidisciplinary scholarly content by LCWU research communities.

B) PREMIUM RESOURCES (On-Demand Subscription)

Resource	Subscription Status	Downloads
Science Direct	Not Subscribed	–
IEEE	Not Subscribed	–
ACM	Not Subscribed	–
ACS	Not Subscribed	–
AIP	Not Subscribed	–
JSTOR	Subscribed	12,235
Emerald	Subscribed	2,849
IOP	Not Subscribed	–

JSTOR showed strong utilization (12,235 downloads), demonstrating high academic relevance. Emerald also reported active usage (2,849 downloads), particularly among business, management, education, and library science disciplines.

Usage Interpretation

- LCWU demonstrated excellent usage of core research databases, particularly Springer Link, Wiley, Taylor & Francis, and JSTOR.
- Relatively lower usage of INFORMS suggests:
 - Limited awareness or specialized academic demand; awareness workshops may improve usage.
- Higher usage levels highlight:
 - Growing research culture
 - Frequent need for high-quality literature
- Not subscribed databases reflect financial and procurement limitations shared across public sector institutions.

Recommendations Based on Usage

1. Continue current subscriptions (Basic Resources, JSTOR, Emerald) due to high utilization.
2. Encourage ORIC, supervisors, and departments to integrate database links in coursework.
3. Strengthen awareness workshops to boost usage of underutilized categories.
4. Advocate inclusion of:
 - ProQuest Dissertations & Theses Global
 - Ebrary / ProQuest E Book Central due to proven need for full-text dissertations and E Book access.

4.6 Plagiarism & Academic Integrity Services (As Focal Person – Turnitin)

- Turnitin access management & coordination

- Daily handling of similarity report tasks
(Avg. 2–4 cases per day)
- Advisory support to faculty & students
- Interpretation of reports & guidance on plagiarism
- Awareness of academic integrity standards
- User account creation & troubleshooting
- Coordination with departments and ORIC regarding research compliance

These efforts increased academic responsibility, reduced plagiarism, and supported quality thesis submission.

More than 500 times performed the similarity index check processes. (PhD Thesis, Article, Punjabi Journal Purkh's Article's abstract etc.)

4.7 Institutional Collaboration

- Active coordination between library, academic departments, ORIC
- Liaised with:
 - HEC
 - Publishing vendors
 - IT Department
 - Examination & Registrar offices

4.8 Administration, HR & Financial Management

- Ensured transparent and efficient use of funds
- Prepared proposals and justification for new staff & trainees
- Managed library HR, duty rosters, and student support staff
- Prepared budget plans to support library growth within limited financial resources

5. STRENGTHS

- Central + multi-library network
- Strong digital access points
- Trained support staff
- Active departmental liaison
- Large print & e-resource collections
- Academic integrity support via Turnitin

6. CHALLENGES

- Budget constraints for resource expansion
- Limited professional staff
- High demand from postgraduate programs
- Restricted procurement capability for international e-books
- Space constraints during peak research periods

8. FUTURE PLANS

- Advocate approval for:
 - ProQuest Dissertations & Theses
 - E-Brary ebook collection
- Expand digital literacy workshops
- Increase departmental library strengthening
- Organize book fairs & academic reading events
- Improve automated systems (CMS)
- Expand postgraduate study area capacity
- Increase HR capacity

9. CONCLUSION

The Central Library Network of LCWU continued to fulfill its role as an academic and research support pillar throughout 2024–2025. Despite resource limitations, significant enhancements were made in infrastructure, digital access, academic integrity support, and user engagement.

The library remains committed to advancing scholarship, supporting women-centered education, and promoting a thriving research ecosystem at LCWU.

i. OFFICE OF RESEARCH INNOVATION & COMMERCIALIZATION (ORIC)

1. Departmental Achievements – ORIC (2024–2025)

The Office of Research, Innovation and Commercialization (ORIC) at Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) has continued to play a pivotal role in cultivating a dynamic research ecosystem, empowering faculty, and strengthening industry-academia linkages throughout the academic year 2024–2025.

During the reporting year, ORIC made notable developments in strengthening the university's research and innovation landscape. A total of PKR 987,000 was awarded in research publication incentives, and five patent applications were submitted, reinforcing a strong culture of quality scholarship and innovation. ORIC supported the submission of over 70 research proposals and secured funding for six major interdisciplinary projects worth PKR 38 million, addressing key national and scientific priorities.

A major milestone was the Industrial Open House 2025, which brought together academia and industry to showcase student research, promote collaboration, and generate PKR 103,000 in revenue. ORIC also facilitated faculty travel grants, research recognitions, and a series of fully funded workshops and seminars on grant writing, IP awareness, and international funding opportunities.

Furthermore, 31 new MoUs were signed with academic and industrial partners, expanding opportunities for research collaboration, training, and funding. Looking ahead, ORIC plans to establish a Research Management Unit (RMU), institutionalize the Industrial Open House as an annual event, and further enhance international visibility through expanded grant acquisition and IP commercialization.

2. Faculty Achievements

ORIC played an instrumental role in identifying, mentoring, and endorsing faculty members for prestigious national and international awards, fellowships, and grant opportunities. Notable achievements include selection for successful project approvals, patents filing and invitations to represent LCWU at international forums.

These accomplishments reflect ORIC's commitment to fostering academic excellence and professional growth within the university.

PROJECTS APPLIED BY THE FACULTY

During the reporting period, ORIC actively supported faculty members in the development and submission of research proposals. A remarkable number of proposals were submitted by LCWU faculty to major national and international funding bodies, including the National Research Program for Universities (NRPU) of the Higher Education Commission (HEC), the Pakistan Science Foundation (PSF), and the National Institutes of Health (NIH). These submissions underscore the university's expanding research footprint, its commitment to multidisciplinary collaboration, and the strengthening culture of competitive grant-seeking fostered by ORIC.

Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences International Conference on Contemporary Trends in South Asian Politics brought together political scientists and researchers to deliberate on regional and global Development. International Conference on Sustainable Development & Innovation in Organizational Psychology was jointly hosted by Applied Psychology and Management Sciences. The event launched LCWU's HEC-recognized Journal of Research in Psychology.

Seminar on Traditional & Non-Traditional Security Challenges to Pakistan, organized by the Department of International Relations in collaboration with Pakistan Navy War College, examined governance, maritime, border, and energy security, as well as refugee-related challenges.

Women Empowerment Conference (WE-CON 2024), organized by the Department of Gender & Development Studies and Women Development Center, addressed gender-based violence and empowerment strategies. The Department of Gender & Development Studies in collaboration with Women Development Center LCWU at Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) inaugurated its 6th International Conference, WE-CON-WOMEN EMPOWERMENT CONFERENCE 2024 on December 5, 2024. This three-day conference is scheduled for December 5th, 6th, and 12th, 2024, under the theme "Unite to End Violence against Women and Girls," and brings together esteemed scholars and professionals from around the world. The event was graced by the presence of Chief Guest Prof. Dr. Uzma Qureshi, Vice Chancellor of LCWU, who shared her insights. Among the distinguished speakers were Raquel King-Nicudemus, Public Diplomacy Officer explained how US is investing in educational and leadership opportunities for Pakistani students, and Ms. Sumayya Tariq, Program Management Coordinator at the Public Diplomacy Section of the US Consulate General Lahore, Ms. Mechthid Geyer from the University of Vienna, Austria/Minhaj University Lahore, and Mr. Zafar Javed Malik, Chief Law & Procurement Officer at DSP- Punjab Safe City Authority. The Guest of Honor, Mr. Usman Ali Khan, Secretary of the Women Development Department (WDD), along with Ms. Sadia Taimoor, Parliamentary Secretary, delivered addresses focused on combating violence against women and girls.

The day concluded with the distribution of souvenirs and a group photograph.

The Second Day of WE CON WOMEN EMPOWERMENT CONFERENCE 2024 was organized on December 6, 2024 by Department of Gender & Development Studies and Women Development Center LCWU & at LCWU. The day was started with the recitation of Holy Quran following by the welcome Address by Dr Uzma Ashiq Khan in charge GDS, LCWU.

Various sessions were held including panel discussion and papers presented by the prominent intellectuals and professionals across the country emphasizing on uniting to end the violence against women. Respected guests including Salman Abid, Shahnawaz Khan, Muhammad Arshad Cheema and Madeeha Malik addressed on the steps to end the violence against women.

2nd International Conference on Conflict Management in South Asia analyzed regional conflict dynamics and pathways to peace.

Two-days International Conference on ‘Conflict Management in South Asia’, chaired by the esteemed Vice Chancellor of LCWU, Prof. Dr. Uzma Qureshi and co-chaired by the Chairperson of the Department of Political Science, Dr. Aisha Shahzad on January 28th and 29th, 2025

International Conference on Peace & Security: Contemporary Trends in Regional & Global Politics examined security challenges in South Asia within a global framework.

An International Conference “ Lets unite to end Violence against Women and Girls” organized by Gender Studies department of LCWU in collaboration with Women Development department on 5th December, 2024.

3rd International Conference on contemporary issues in Management and Administrative Sciences on 2nd -4th December, 2024.

Faculty of Education

4th International Conference on Research, Policy, and Practices in Education focused on teacher education reforms and pedagogical innovation. Keynote speakers from the USA, UK, and Pakistan highlighted the importance of the “4Cs” (creativity, critical thinking, communication, collaboration) in modern education. A special session chaired by Prof. Dr. Uzma Qureshi featured HEC and British Council-funded research projects on STEM education, graduate employability, and student exchange.

Faculty of Science and Technology

4th Science International Conference on Recent Advances in Photonics & Physical Sciences was organized by the Physics Department with global partners including SPIE, PSF, UNC Charlotte, and COMSATS. The three-day event featured distinguished scientists from the USA, UK, Germany, Romania, China, Malaysia, and Canada.

4th International Conference on Emerging Trends in Physics showcased advancements in photonics, nanotechnology, and applied sciences.

International Conference on Technology-Driven Climate Action (DepWisen Project) was jointly organized with BUITEMS, NED Karachi, University of Glasgow, and Middlesex University London.

Faculty of Management and Administrative Sciences

3rd International Conference on Contemporary Issues in Management & Administrative Sciences (December 2024) focused on “Innovating Management for a Sustainable Future.” The event featured collaboration with LCCI, keynote addresses from international scholars, and interdisciplinary sessions on finance, leadership, and digital innovation.

iii. CENTRAL RESEARCH LAB

MOLECULAR DIAGNOSTIC LAB PLANT TISSUE CULTURE LAB (Bagh e Jinnah)

Introduction of Central Research Lab

The Central Research lab was established at Lahore College for Women University, Lahore in 2004 under the HEC funded projects and supervision of Dr. Farhat Saleemi as a project director. This Lab has established as a hub for research and development (R&D) activities at Lahore College for Women University Lahore. The Central research facility for all basic science departments aims at achieving high quality R & D activities in experimental techniques by imparting training to researchers in high tech equipment. Establishment of new research laboratory in 2004 was under HEC funded projects in line with the HEC objective to strengthen the high tech research lab equipped with more than 100 instruments such as, Scanning Electron Microscope (SEM), XRD, GC-MS, HPLC, UV-Visible, Atomic Absorption Spectrophotometer, FTIR, High Temperature Furnace, TGA.DTA etc. have made this Central lab distinct among other Universities. The laboratory offers opportunities for scientific research that enable researchers to pursue research in disciplines of biological and physical sciences.

The molecular diagnostic lab was established at Lahore College for Women University, Lahore in August 2024, inaugurated by Vice Chancellor Professor Dr. Shagufta Naz under the HEC funded projects. This Lab has established as a hub for research and development (R&D) activities at Lahore College for Women University Lahore for diagnostic purposes. With the rapidly emergence in the field of Science & Technology, molecular diagnostics has evolved as a transformative force, revolutionizing the way of diagnose, treat and prevent diseases. With a team of expert molecular biologists and a commitment to innovation, we are pushing the boundaries of what is possible in molecular diagnosis.

This laboratory is a specialized facility equipped to conduct molecular biology research and diagnostic testing. It focuses on analyzing biological molecules, such as DNA, RNA and proteins. It is highly equipped with specialized equipment's such as thermal cyclers (PCR), electrophoresis apparatus, Gel Doc, Nano drop, ELISA readers, -40 °C, 20 °C refrigerators, Laminar and Fume Hood, shaking incubators etc. It provides services to researchers to perform their molecular research on DNA/RNA Extraction, amplification by Polymerase Chain Reaction (PCR), Electrophoresis of PCR products for separating DNA, RNA or proteins based on size and charge for analysis, quantification of DNA and RNA.

The Plant Tissue Culture Laboratory at Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) serves as a dedicated facility for research and training in plant biotechnology. The laboratory is equipped to support various plant tissue culture techniques including callus induction, micropropagation, and genetic transformation. It provides a platform for students and researchers to explore plant regeneration, conservation of endangered species, production of disease-free plants, and development of stress-tolerant varieties. The lab contributes to both academic and applied research by facilitating projects related to agricultural biotechnology, plant physiology, and molecular studies, thereby strengthening the university's role in sustainable crop improvement and biotechnological innovation.

Vision

To become an internationally acclaimed research university that serves society through excellence in education and research.

Mission

Central Research lab mission is to provide a comfortable, safe and effective environment to conduct professional, high-quality research. This is achieved by providing the necessary environment, equipment and personal to achieve research goals. CRL acts as a single point of contact for investigators to accelerate their research study and provides structured environment where researchers can work together on projects that are relevant and fundamentally important. Research lab aims at becoming the go to place for high end characterization and analysis for academia within the country.

Objectives

The objectives of central Research lab are:

- To identify and pursue high level research projects and expand existing expertise.
- To raise the standard of research at par with international norms of productivity and originality.
- To promote and develop basic and applied scientific research in a laboratory setting.
- For timely provision of services to its researchers mainly in fields of Natural sciences.

Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) of Central Research Laboratory (CRL) to conduct Experimental Research Work in LCWU

1. The Central Research Laboratory (CRL) provides advanced research facilities to all science departments of Lahore College for Women University (LCWU).
2. A department-wise log sheets are maintained to record the details of research students utilizing CRL facilities.
3. Each student issued a log sheet by their respective department for entry into CRL, containing information such as date, name, class, number of samples, sample conditions/parameters, and required signatures (student, supervisor, and HOD).
4. Upon approval from the student's supervisor and Head of Department, a specific date and time are allotted for sample analysis, which must be conducted in the presence of both the student and the supervisor.
5. The analytical data/results are provided to the student in digital format (CD or other suitable media).
6. The number of analyses or tests for BS, MS, and PhD students is carried out according to the limits sanctioned by the CRL committee.
7. In case additional analyses are required beyond the approved quota, the supervisor may submit a formal request with justification to the Chief Equipment Maintenance Engineer for consideration.
8. CRL offers technical assistance to basic science departments in the procurement and installation of scientific equipment's as well.
9. Regular training sessions are organized for departmental laboratory in-charges to ensure proper handling and utilization of equipment placed in their respective departments.
10. Laboratory engineers guide students regarding the appropriate preparation and submission of samples as per equipment requirements.
11. Samples not meeting the required quality or preparation standards will not be accepted for analysis.
12. All students are required to follow laboratory safety protocols, including wearing masks, gloves, and lab coats while working within CRL premises.

High Tech. Instruments in Central Research Lab, LCWU

The Central Research Laboratory houses more than 80 advanced instruments, providing state-of-the-art research facilities to scholars from diverse disciplines. Research students actively engage in innovative studies across multiple domains, including nanotechnology, vaccine and drug development, solar batteries, molecular diagnostics, and plant tissue culture. The lab serves as a collaborative platform for interdisciplinary research integrating physics, chemistry, biotechnology, and related sciences. It supports both faculty and students in executing high-quality experimental work. This facility continues to play a pivotal role in advancing scientific innovation and capacity building at the university.

Report on Individual Achievements of DFDI Leadership

A summary of individual achievements of DFDI leadership during the reporting period September 2024 – September 2025. These initiatives were undertaken to strengthen financial discipline, institutional capacity, and overall efficiency within the Directorate:

1. Settlement of Outstanding Financial Bills
2. Expenditure Rationalization
3. Financial Strengthening through TDR
4. Establishment of Information & Digital Technology Hub

➤ DFDI Awareness Session: Introduction of different wings on 4th December, 2024

An awareness session was conducted to highlight DFDI's mandate, services, and future directions. The session provided an opportunity for faculty and staff to engage with DFDI's objectives, ongoing projects, and support mechanisms. Participants appreciated the clarity on institutional roles and expressed interest in further collaboration.

➤ Lean Six Sigma white belt Training on 9th April 2025

A Lean Six Sigma White Belt training session was conducted in collaboration with ACU Acumen Consulting to enhance administrative and academic efficiency.

➤ Awareness Session on International Law on 19th September, 2025

A dedicated session on International Law Regarding India and Pakistan Conflict was conducted on 19th September 2025 in collaboration with IRC, featuring legal experts and academic leadership.

International Resource Center (IRC) DFDI

➤ Webinar: Commonwealth Doctoral Scholarships on 9th September 2024

The International Resource Centre (IRC) and DFDI organized a webinar on Commonwealth Doctoral Scholarships on 9th September 2024. The session was conducted by Ms. Anum Fatima, Lecturer in the Department of Statistics, LCWU, and Doctoral Student at the University of Oxford. She shared her experience of applying for the prestigious scholarship and guided participants on eligibility criteria, application procedures, and tips for successful selection. Faculty and students actively participated in the interactive session and benefited from her practical insights. The webinar served as a valuable platform to inspire and prepare LCWU scholars for international academic opportunities.

➤ Seminar: Career Counselling & Scholarship Opportunities Worldwide, 20th January 2025

In January 2025, IRC (DFDI), LCWU, initiated the year's professional development activities with a highly attended seminar titled "Career Counselling & Scholarship Opportunities Worldwide," held on 20th January 2025. The session was conducted by Syed Abidi, the Regional Director of Teesside University (Pakistan & MENA), a renowned expert in international education and scholarship facilitation. With over 200 participants, the session focused on educating students and faculty members about the diverse international scholarship opportunities available across the globe. Mr. Abidi shared critical insights on preparing effective applications, writing compelling personal statements, and tailoring academic portfolios for competitive international programs. The seminar was interactive and enlightening, particularly for students planning to pursue higher education abroad, and it positioned LCWU's IRC DFDI as a strong resource center for international mobility.

➤ Seminar on: International Scholarship Opportunities for PHD Scholars 23rd April 2025

On 23rd April 2025, IRC, DFDI concluded the spring training series with a highly specialized session on "International Scholarship Opportunities for PhD Scholars." Delivered by Dr. Hafsa Amat ur Rasool, the session engaged 35 postgraduate and doctoral participants, providing detailed information on international research opportunities such as the IRSIP (HEC), Commonwealth Split-Site PhDs, and Brain Gain Fellowships. Dr. Hafsa offered expert advice on writing grant proposals, choosing appropriate host institutions, and meeting eligibility requirements for competitive research scholarships abroad.

➤ International Language Hub (ILH) and French Language Course Launch, 16 September 2025

On September 16, 2025, Prof. Dr. Zohra Kayani, Director DFDI, inaugurated the International Language Hub (ILH) under the International Resource Centre (IRC) at Lahore College for Women University (LCWU), reflecting Vice-Chancellor Prof. Dr. Uzma Quraishi's vision of internationalization and global engagement. The event recognized the efforts of Dr. Nausheen Mazhar, Head IRC; Dr. Sana Baig, Program Leader ILH; and Dr. Ayesha Iqbal, developer of the IRC interactive website. The launch also marked the commencement of the first French certificate course (DELFI A1) and the unveiling of the IRC website connecting faculty and students to global academic opportunities.

➤ Session on International Law Regarding India and Pakistan Conflict, 19th Sep, 2025

The IRC, DFDI organized a session on International Law Regarding India and Pakistan Conflict on September 19, 2025, at the Social Science Building. Prof. Dr. Zohra Nazir Kayani, Director DFDI, graced the event. Dr. Nausheen Mazhar, International Relations Resource Center (IRC) – DFDI, coordinated the event, Renowned speaker Dr. Shakil Ahmed Shah from LUMS was the resource person and, shared valuable insights on the role of international law in regional conflicts with the audience. Faculty and students actively participated and greatly benefited from the session.

Active Citizens (ACP)

Program

➤ ACP Faculty Bootcamp and Capacity Building on 7th to 11th October 2024

The Active Citizens Program (ACP) Bootcamp for Facilitators, organized by the British Council at Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) from October 7-11, 2024, empowered faculty with skills for youth-led community change. Led by ACP team, it focused on civic responsibility, intercultural dialogue, and SDGs. Resource persons included Dr. Moafia Nader (Me & Identity), Dr. Saira Taj (Identity and Culture), Dr. Shabana Manzoor and Dr. Rakshanda Qasim (Local and Global Communities), Dr. Bisma Ejaz (SAP Planning), and Dr. Moneeba Iftikhar (Documentary Making). Activities featured immersive modules with ice-breakers, team-building, identity reflection, community mapping, SMART objective setting, project drafting, video documentation, and facilitation strategies. The workshop enhanced faculty understanding of ACP and SDGs; practical tools for SAP design/evaluation; fostered critical thinking and intercultural dialogue; integrated ACP into courses; built institutional commitment to civic engagement and sustainable development.

➤ Follow-up Session for Fall 2024 ACP Facilitators on 4th February 2025

A follow up session was organized by Dr. Moafia Nader for the review of the ACP projects conducted in the Fall 2024 semester and discussion of improvements for future implementation. This session provided a reflective space for faculty to share their experiences with implementing Social Action Projects (SAPs) in Fall 2024. It allowed for constructive feedback, identification of challenges, and collective brainstorming for enhancing future project planning and student mentorship.

➤ Orientation for Spring 2025 ACP Facilitators on 11th February 2025

A meeting was held for briefing ACP facilitators teaching the Civic Sense and Community Engagement course in Spring 2025. Dr Moafia Nader & Dr Asma Shahid Kazi led the session. New and returning facilitators were oriented on course expectations, ACP values, and updated resources to ensure consistency in delivering the "Civic Sense and Community Engagement" course, reinforcing ACP integration across departments.

➤ Follow-up Session for Spring 2025 ACP Facilitators on 17 March 2025

An evaluation and feedback session regarding Spring semester ACP activities. Faculty shared ongoing experiences from the Spring semester, discussed emerging needs, and exchanged best practices for managing student-led Social Action Projects, leading to collaborative refinement of facilitation techniques.

➤ Improving My Luck Factor as an ACP Facilitator on 21st May 2025

A session for facilitators was arranged on the 8th of May with Dr. Muhammad Babur on transformative leadership. However due to political circumstances, the session had to be postponed. In lieu of that an online session was arranged on Zoom, on 21st May on the theme "Improving My Luck Factor as an ACP Facilitator. The ACP facilitators Different Ways of Identifying Opportunities and related it to the social action projects they could undertake with their students.

➤ ACP Training for Chairpersons on 26th August 2025

On August 26, 2025, over thirty Chairpersons from Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) participated in a transformative workshop, "Demonstrable Leadership for Active Citizenship Projects: Expanding Our Professional Boundaries & Influence," led by Dr. Muhammad Babur. The session aimed to strengthen departmental leadership for embedding the Active Citizens Programme (ACP) across disciplines. Dr. Babur introduced his 3x3x3 framework—mindset, skillset, toolset; personal, professional, societal roles; and reflective strategies using images, stories, and metaphors. He emphasized Appreciative Inquiry, shifting from deficit-based to strength-based leadership, and explored the "luck factor" to foster resilience and opportunity-making. Activities included reflective exercises, metaphor creation, and discussions on leadership and ACP integration. The Chairpersons gained a strategic understanding of ACP, embraced strength-based leadership, used metaphors for clarity and creativity, and reframed ACP as a tool for resilience and institutional sustainability, empowering them to lead vibrant ACP ecosystems at LCWU.

➤ ACP Faculty Facilitators' Workshop on 27th August 2025

On August 27, 2025, sixty-six (ACP) facilitators from Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) attended a dynamic training led by Dr. Muhammad Babur. The workshop inspired faculty to view ACP as a creative opportunity to mentor students in Social Action Projects (SAPs) aligned with Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Dr. Babur employed Appreciative Inquiry and strength-based leadership through interactive discussions, reflective storytelling, and metaphor-based activities, fostering resilience and resourcefulness in mentoring. Activities included collaborative discussions, storytelling, and crafting metaphors to reframe ACP as a growth-oriented, impactful initiative. Facilitators gained renewed purpose in guiding SAPs, acquired practical tools for facilitation and documentation, and embraced ACP as enriching. The session sparked motivation, resilience, and community spirit, with diverse reflections highlighting creativity and intercultural dialogue. Faculty left energized, ready to nurture students' active citizenship, reinforcing LCWU's commitment to sustainable, opportunity-driven community change.

Research and Innovation Cell

(R&D)

Training titled "Unlocking Data Insights with Python: From Basic to Analytics" from March 10 to March 13, 2025

The training titled "Unlocking Data Insights with Python: From Basic to Analytics" was conducted from March 10 to March 13, 2025. A total of 49 participants attended the program, including one male faculty member and two external faculty members from Government College, Samanabad. The sessions were led by resource persons Dr. Sehar Saleem and Ms. Noor Shahid from the Department of Statistics at LCWU. The training successfully attracted LCWU faculty and students, along with an external participant, demonstrating strong outreach and a growing interest in data science among diverse audiences.

Miracle of Light and Color: Spiritual and Biological Treatment on April 16, 2025

On April 16, 2025, a one-day workshop was held with the objective of guiding participants to discover the path to well-being through light and color therapy, emphasizing both spiritual and biological perspectives. The event was attended by 35 participants, all female, including two external participants, which underscored the expanding interest beyond LCWU. The workshop was led by resource person Prof. Dr. Samina Tazayyen Yousuf Azeemi, whose expertise contributed significantly to the session. The complete gender representation of the participants highlighted a 100% female participation, reflecting strong engagement and interest among women in holistic approaches to health and well-being.

Short Course on Color Therapy from July 19 to August 3, 2025

The Short Course on Color Therapy was conducted online from July 19 to August 3, 2025, attracting a total of 147 registered participants. This included 89 LCWU students, 12 LCWU faculty members, and 46 external participants, among whom four were males. The course was led by resource person Prof. Dr. Samina Tazayyen Yousuf Azeemi, whose expertise enriched the learning experience. The high number of external participants highlighted the course's significant outreach and wide impact beyond LCWU, reaching both national and international audiences through the online format. The participant demographic was predominantly female, with the inclusion of four males, reflecting a strong interest among women in the field of color therapy.

SPSS Hands-On: Data Analysis for Research and Publication from August 25 to 29, 2025

From August 25 to 29, 2025, a workshop was conducted with a total of 65 registered participants, including 53 from LCWU (students, faculty, and alumni), four external participants from institutions such as Kinnaird College, Superior College, the University of Gujrat, and Shaikh Zaid Medical Complex, among others. The event also featured two male participants, with the remaining 55 being female, highlighting a strong female majority and active male inclusion. Led by resource person Dr. Asifa Kamal, the workshop demonstrated substantial outreach through participation from multiple universities and professional institutes, reflecting robust networking and external collaboration. The diverse participation underscored the event's success in fostering interdisciplinary engagement and expanding professional connections.

Faculty Development Center (FDC)

Workshop on "Assessment & Evaluation: Developing Classroom Assessment" on November 15, 2024

A one-day workshop titled “Assessment & Evaluation: Developing Classroom Assessment” was held on November 15, 2024, with Dr. Muhammad Hashmi as the resource person. The session aimed to enhance educators’ skills in designing effective classroom assessment tools and strategies. Dr. Hashmi, an expert in education and assessment, emphasized the importance of the validity, reliability, and the assessment process. The workshop alignment of learning objectives and standards, strategies highlighted the assessments with formative and summative assessments that promote critical thinking and engagement, and hands-on activities for designing rubrics and question papers. Participants gained practical knowledge and tools for creating high-quality assessments tailored to diverse classroom needs and expressed increased confidence in implementing innovative, student-centered evaluation methods.

December 2024: Comprehensive Capacity Building Series from December 2 to 13, 2024

The year began with an intensive two-week series of workshops held from December 2 to 13, 2024, marking a cornerstone of the year's professional development initiatives. The program featured two parallel tracks, one of which was a specialized series for the Faculty of Architecture. Conducted within the Department of Architecture, this series offered discipline-specific professional development opportunities designed to enhance faculty expertise.

Session 1: Enhancing Research Publications and Project Management on December 2, 2024

Session 2: Holistic Student Development: Counseling and Extracurricular Activities (December 3)

Session 3: Curriculum Development for the Modern Age (December 4)

Session 4: Departmental Leadership and Administration (December 5)

Session 5: Fostering a Positive Academic Culture through Book Reading (December 6)

Workshop on Inclusive Teaching: Preparing All Teachers to Teach All Students (December 9)

The workshop, conducted by Dr. Afaf Manzur for lecturers and assistant professors at LCWU, was based on UNESCO frameworks and focused on the principles and practices of inclusive education. It aimed to enhance teachers' commitment, knowledge, and practical skills for effectively managing diverse classrooms. The session also emphasized designing strength-based and personalized curricula and learning materials, alongside implementing pedagogical practices that ensure every student's needs are met. By promoting equity, belonging, and inclusivity, the workshop encouraged educators to create learning environments where all students can thrive.

Media Workshops Series (December 11-13)

A three-day training series by Mr. Usman Ahmed Bhatti, a renowned media expert, was held at the Department of Mass Communication for faculty and students from Mass Communication, Education, and Social Sciences. The first session on Media Ethics (Dec 11) emphasized responsible communication, accuracy, and credibility in digital media. The second session on Entrepreneurship in Media (Dec 12) focused on identifying opportunities and developing sustainable media projects through case studies. The final session on Crisis Management in Media (Dec 13) trained participants in handling communication during crises, ensuring transparency, and protecting institutional reputation.

Embracing the Future - Workshop on AI in Academia (Online: July 2025)

A three-day workshop conducted by Mr. Usman Ahmed Bhatti at the Department of Mass Communication brought together faculty and students from Mass Communication, Education, and Social Sciences. The sessions focused on media ethics, entrepreneurship, and crisis management, emphasizing responsible communication, innovative media practices, and effective strategies for maintaining transparency and credibility during challenging situations.

Professionalism, Collegiality, and Emotional Intelligence for Educators (April 23, 2025)

The workshop, conducted by Professor Dr. Ayaz Muhammad Khan, focused on developing soft skills essential for creating a harmonious and productive academic environment. It provided participants with strategies to foster professional ethics, enhance collegiality, and build emotional intelligence for improved interpersonal relationships.

The session also emphasized effective stress management techniques to promote overall well-being and workplace productivity.

Student Development Training Workshop (September 15, 2025)

The session, conducted by Dr. Afifa Khanam for faculty and undergraduate and postgraduate students, focused on developing essential 21st-century skills—Collaboration, Critical Thinking, and Communication (the 3 Cs). It equipped participants with effective teamwork and conflict-resolution techniques, frameworks for analytical problem-solving and logical decision-making, and practical methods to strengthen both verbal and written communication skills.

August-September 2025: Flagship Mandatory Four-Week Intensive Summer Training Program

The apex of the FDC's year was the design and execution of a comprehensive, mandatory training program for all teaching and non-teaching staff. This initiative reflected a strategic commitment to professional development and organizational excellence.

A. Training for Teaching Staff:

This six-session series was designed to equip faculty with advanced, 21st-century skills essential for pedagogical leadership and innovation.

Session 1: Character Modeling (August 20)

Session 2: Gamified Pedagogies (August 22)

Session 3: Authentic Assessment (August 26)

Session 4: AI in Education (August 29)

Session 5: Leadership Re-conceptualized (September 1)

Session 6: Academic Professionalism (September 3)

B. Parallel Training for Non-Teaching Staff:

In a groundbreaking move, the FDC delivered a tailored four-session program specifically designed for non-teaching staff, acknowledging their critical role in the university's smooth functioning.

Session 1: Professional Communication (August 21)

Session 2: (August 25)

Session 3: (August 27)

Session 4: (August 28)

A Free Hepatitis Screening Test by A One Lab Conducted

A free camp for Hepatitis screening of LCWU faculty, Staff and students was organized on 15th September 2025. Mr. Azmat Javed (CEO Grand Group and Mian Muhammad Waqqas CEO LCWU) were present and supervised the camp.

ii. DEPARTMENTAL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT INITIATIVES

➤ TRAININGS CONDUCTED BY THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

Managing External Pressures: Communication Strategies for the University Registrars

A follow-up training session as part of USAID's HESSA Registrars Capacity Building Program was held by the Registrar Office. The session was led by Ms. Uzma Batool, Additional Registrar LCWU and was well-attended by staff members of the office. The session provided a platform for participants to discuss various issues and challenges faced in their daily work. The Additional Registrar shared valuable insights and practical solutions, encouraging a constructive dialogue among the attendees.

CAPACITY-BUILDING INITIATIVES: INDEPENDENT LIVING CENTER

Five-Day Training Workshop

Title: “A Step Ahead Towards Diversity and Inclusivity: Training to Teach Quantitative Reasoning I & II to Visually Impaired Students”

Date: December 9–13, 2024

Organizers: Department of Statistics, LCWU, in collaboration with Laboratory for Interdisciplinary Statistical Analysis (LISA-LCWU) and Aziz Jehan Begum Trust

Funding Support: Elsevier 2023 Mathematical Sciences Sponsorship Fund (MSSF)

Highlights & Outcomes:

- Developed accessible instructional materials for visually impaired students.
- Trained faculty members to effectively teach Quantitative Reasoning I & II.
- Promoted inclusivity in STEM education at LCWU.

SECTION 11: STRENGTHENING AND PHYSICAL INFRASTRUCTURE

i.OFFICE OF PLANNING & DEVELOPMENT

(FUTURE PLANS)

1. CONSTRUCTION OF HOSTEL FACILITY FOR 400 STUDENTS AT LAHORE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN UNIVERSITY, LAHORE

The university management identified the growing demand for student accommodation factors due to increase in enrollment, especially from rural areas, and lack of suitable accommodation facilities for female students. Frequent requests for safe and secure accommodations for female students have prompted the university to consider this construction project. Moreover, Government policies or initiatives also aimed at improving educational facilities and access to education. Ensuring a conducive and secure environment for learning is a critical factor in the decision-making process. Keeping in view the situation, University management focused on the construction of a hostel facility for 400 students at Lahore College for Women University, Lahore. The primary goal is to address the challenge of providing secure and safe accommodation for female students from rural and underdeveloped areas of Punjab and other provinces who are unable to continue their higher education at the University level. Moreover, the project aimed at expanding the university's housing capacity. For this purpose, P&D Department, LCWU, Lahore and Project Directorate officials visited Forman Christian College, Lahore to review their state-of-the-art hostel on Jan. 23, 2025. Hence LCWU, prepared a project to accommodate 400 students at LCWU Main Camps.

Presently, three hostels are available in the University to accommodate only 562 students against the total strength of more than 20,000 students. A large number of students who come with full momentum of getting higher education but go away because of space constraints. Parents feel insecure to lodge their daughters in available private hostels of the city. Due to the reason, hundreds of students of rural and underdeveloped areas of Punjab and other provinces are unable to continue their higher education at the University.

A hostel having students not only from all localities of the country but also from other countries will help them to learn and groom multicultural norms & values and become a better citizen of the society having emotions of friendship, unity, sympathy, peace and cooperation. The quantifiable objects of the project are as follows;

- i. Construction of hostel facility at an area of 103,801 Sft by an estimated cost of Rs. 1142.660 million for the female students of widespread areas of country, sports players and international students in order to provide them safe and sound environment to complete their higher education.
- ii. Furniture & Fixture amounting to Rs. 128.990 million will be purchased for hostel Students.
- iii. ICT Infrastructure (Reading room with allied facilities) will be provided at an estimated cost of Rs. 128.990 million.
- iv. 04 Project Implementation Staff members will be hired to execute the project at an estimated cost of Rs.18.868 million.

2. ESTABLISHMENT OF WOMEN INNOVATION HUB (WINNO HUB) AT 05 RACE COURSE ROAD, LAHORE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN UNIVERSITY, LAHORE (10-Storey)

The “Establishment of Women Innovation Hub (WINNO HUB)” at 05 Race Course Road, Lahore College for Women University (LCWU), Lahore is a transformative initiative that aims to reshape the landscape of higher education for women in Pakistan particularly in the fields of Information Technology, Computer Science, and Entrepreneurship. This project is a pioneering step by LCWU, one of the oldest and most prestigious women’s institutions in Pakistan, to align its infrastructure and academic vision with the emerging demands of the 21st-century knowledge economy. The proposed WINNO HUB will be constructed on LCWU’s strategically located property at 05 Race Course Road, Lahore, measuring approximately 04 Kanals and 10 Marla, previously underutilized after the relocation of the Treasurer Office in 2010. Recognizing the critical need for modern, high-tech, women-centered academic infrastructure. The university plans to establish a 10-storey building on an area covered area of 140,776 square feet, a multipurpose facility to serve as a hub of innovation, research, and professional development for female students, faculty, and the broader community.

The project is designed not only to expand physical capacity and academic offerings but to redefine how educational institutions can serve as engines of innovation and economic empowerment. At its core, the WINNO HUB will facilitate the practical application of knowledge through:

- Cutting-edge laboratories, including Hi-Tech Diagnostic, Industrial and Agriculture Labs.
- Technology-focused centers such as the Artificial Intelligence Lab, Game Development Center, and Software Houses.
- Media production facilities, including a Web TV and FM Studio.
- Multipurpose spaces for hosting events, exhibitions, and workshops.
- A co-working and incubation space for student entrepreneurs and startups.
- Rooftop restaurants and community engagement zones to generate revenue and increase public interaction.

By empowering women with skills in artificial intelligence, virtual reality, game development, software engineering, and entrepreneurship, LCWU is not only responding to national and global employment trends but also fulfilling its mission to produce value-driven, professional women leaders capable of driving socio-economic transformation across Pakistan. The WINNO HUB will also support the university’s financial sustainability objectives by incorporating revenue-generating components, in line with the Higher Education Commission (HEC) guidelines to transition public universities towards greater financial independence.

In essence, the WINNO HUB is more than a building, actually, it is a vision for the future of inclusive, innovative, and economically sustainable higher education in Pakistan.

3. RENOVATION AND UPGRADATION OF EXISTING INFRASTRUCTURE AT LAHORE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN UNIVERSITY, LAHORE

The project is focused on upgradation of existing infrastructure at Lahore College for Women University, Lahore therefore it is a scale up project. The primary goal is to provide a safe efficient and environmentally responsible environment for its community. By addressing the issues of infrastructure decay, energy inefficiency, and safety, this project will significantly enhance the campus's operational efficiency, security, and sustainability. The university is committed to improving its facilities and contributing to a better, greener future, and this project will go a long way in achieving that vision.

Lahore College for Women University (LCWU), established as a premier educational institution for women in Lahore in 1922, has consistently focused on providing quality education and a conducive environment for learning. Over time, however, like many educational institutions, the campus infrastructure has faced the wear and tear of daily use, climatic conditions, and technological advancement. The university's development infrastructure is in need of significant improvements to support the increasing number of students, staff, and visitors. The current state of infrastructure, particularly the road networks, lighting systems, wash rooms, termite treatment, signage, and sustainability measures, no longer meet the needs of the growing university community. Additionally, the lack of energy-efficient systems, such as solar power, have contributed to operational inefficiencies and increased costs.

The proposed project will focus on addressing these critical areas by upgrading the road infrastructure, improving street lighting, improved wash rooms for students, staff and faculty, carrying out termite treatment for university buildings, implementing a new signage system and installing a solar power system throughout the campus. These upgrades will not only enhance the functional efficiency of the university but also contribute to creating a safe, energy-efficient, and environmentally-friendly campus for all stakeholders. Justification of the project is as follows; The engineering estimates of the project will be as follows;

- Road infrastructure throughout the campus will be constructed at an estimated cost of Rs. 73.928 million.
- Lighting systems at all necessary locations will be installed at an estimated cost of Rs.33.301 million.
- Renovation, repair, and upgradation of existing washrooms will be made at an estimated cost of Rs.107.880 million.
- Conduction of comprehensive termite treatment for all buildings will be made at an estimated cost of Rs. 12.550 million.
- Signage work will be completed at an estimated cost of Rs. 5.00 million.

- Solar system will be installed at the roof tops of the University buildings at an estimated cost of Rs.174.00 million.

4. ESTABLISHMENT OF INDEPENDENT LIVING CENTER AT LAHORE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN UNIVERSITY, LAHORE

Lahore College for Women University, Lahore, is a prestigious institution that provides higher education to female students in various disciplines. However, students with disabilities face significant barriers in terms of accessibility, mobility, social inclusion and independence. Despite the university's efforts to create a supportive atmosphere, a dedicated facility that addresses the specific needs of disabled students is lacking. The establishment of an Independent Living Center will address these challenges by providing the necessary infrastructure, resources, and services for students with disabilities, empowering them to live independently and participate fully in university life. LCWU is committed to fostering an inclusive educational environment where all students, regardless of physical or mental disabilities, are provided equal opportunities to excel. In line with this vision, the establishment of an Independent Living Center for Disabled Students is proposed to ensure the autonomy, independence, and overall well-being of students with disabilities. This center will offer resources, facilities, and support systems that will enable disabled students to live, learn, and thrive in a university environment with dignity, security, and confidence.

- There has been a growing demand for inclusive education and accessibility for students with disabilities. The move towards integrating students with disabilities into general education environments has highlighted the - need for additional resources to support their transition to adulthood. Independent living centers can offer a personalized and supportive environment to help students gain essential life skills and independence.
- There is a growing demand and importance of preparing students with disabilities for employment. This center will help students to develop the skills necessary for long-term career success after completing their higher education.
- A well-established, accessible center could increase demand significantly, especially if students are informed about the center's facilities, support services, and the overall ease it provides in managing their academic and personal lives.
- After the establishment of ILC, students not only from Lahore & its surrounding areas but also from Rajanpur, Layyah, Muzaffargarh, Dera Ghazi Khan, Bahawalnagar, Rahim Yar Khan, Bhakkar and Vehari etc. will be able to get higher education at the University level.

The quantifiable objects of the project are as follows;

- i. An independent living center will be constructed at an area of 6400 Sft by an estimated cost of Rs. 60.834 million.
- ii. 04 Project Implementation Staff members will be hired to execute the project at an estimated cost of Rs.12.269 million

Department of Applied Psychology

Faculty Achievements

Prof. Dr. Amina Muazzam represented the department and LCWU through multiple prestigious roles and engagements, including her appointment to the Steering Committee of the Punjab Probation and Parole Service, selection as a member of the Advisory Board for Transformation International Wellness Clinics, participation as a moderator and panelist at the HEC-DAAD EFFAL Conference on Afghan-Pakistani educational issues, hosting of LCWU’s 20th Convocation Ceremony (3 May 2025), and delivering a keynote on mindfulness in the British Council’s global webinar titled "The Art of Slow Living". She also strengthened LCWU’s international academic visibility by delivering keynote lectures titled "Understanding the Stigma: Breaking the Barrier" at the University of Bolton and "Aging, Abuse and Neglect" at the Sheffield School of Medical Science, United Kingdom in 2024.

Dr. Amina Obaid Khawaja led multiple advocacy initiatives, serving as the focal person for the MoU with the Animal Welfare and Protection Society and Environment and Animal Rights Consultants (EARC), organizing Pakistan’s first Farm Animal Welfare Summit (24 June 2025), and spearheading a protest against dog culling under the Pakistan Animal Rights Advocacy Group (18 March 2025); she was also invited as a writer at the launch of the Al Khidmat Literary Guild Club in July 2024.

Dr. Nudra Malik, Assistant Professor and Senior Manager at ORIC, led the Department of Applied Psychology’s first-ever industry-funded research project, securing a grant of PKR 1 million by Master Sleep Research Foundation. She also represented the department as a keynote speaker on World Sleep Day (March 2025), highlighting the significance of sleep health and research-driven solutions.

Faculty Awards & Honors

Prof. Dr. Amina Muazzam received the Denmark-Gunvald Award 2024 by International Council of Psychologists (ICP). This award honors psychologists whose research and service significantly benefit the health and well-being of women worldwide. Prof. Dr. Muazzam’s contributions to feminist research, advocacy for gender-sensitive mental health practices, and community service were globally acknowledged through this accolade, bringing honor and visibility to the Department of Applied Psychology and LCWU on an international academic platform.

• Projects

Dr. Nudra Malik (Principal Investigator) and Prof. Dr. Amina Muazzam (Co-PI) successfully completed the first-ever industry-funded research project of the department titled: “Effects of Different Mattresses on Sleep Quality, Back Pain and Mood in Pakistani Adults”, funded by the Master Sleep Research Foundation with a total grant of PKR 1 Million (2023–2025). This milestone project not only bridged academia-industry collaboration but also contributed meaningful insights into sleep health in the local population.

Department of Applied Psychology Departmental Achievements

The Department of Applied Psychology at Lahore College for Women University has continued its legacy of academic excellence, innovation, and social responsibility during the academic year 2024–2025. With a strong commitment to enhancing mental health awareness, advancing psychological education, and contributing to impactful research and community engagement, the department has taken several landmark steps this year.

Noteworthy achievements include:

- Successful launch of BS Clinical Psychology, MS Clinical Psychology (Self-Support Program), and the Advanced Diploma in Clinical Psychology (ADCP) - programs designed to meet the growing need for specialized training in clinical practice across Pakistan.
- In a significant academic milestone, the department's official publication, the Journal of Research in Psychology, received HEC Y-Category recognition, published two new issues, and expanded its scholarly influence through policy engagement and international representation. The department also actively contributed to national academic platforms and professional development initiatives.
- As a major departmental achievement, Prof. Dr. Amina Muazzam was honored with the prestigious Denmark-Gunvald Award 2024 by the International Council of Psychologists (ICP), recognizing her outstanding contributions to feminist research and global mental health advocacy.
- The department further marked a historic milestone with the completion of its first industry-funded research project, led by Dr. Nudra Malik (PI) and Dr. Amina Muazzam (Co-PI) in collaboration with the Master Sleep Research Foundation, a pioneering partnership that established the department's leadership in applied psychological research and reinforced its commitment to aligning academic inquiry with real-world and industry needs.
- Prof. Dr. Amina Muazzam represented LCWU on international academic platforms in 2024 by delivering keynote lectures titled "Understanding the Stigma: Breaking the Barrier" at the University of Bolton and "Aging, Abuse and Neglect" at the Sheffield School of Medical Science, United Kingdom.
- PhD Milestone Achieved: The Department of Applied Psychology proudly celebrated a significant academic achievement as seven scholars were formally awarded the degree of PhD during the university's 20th Convocation Ceremony. This milestone reflects the department's strong commitment to advanced research training and academic excellence. Three more scholars have defended their thesis. In addition, three more scholars have successfully defended their doctoral theses, further strengthening the department's growing contributions to psychological research and scholarship.
- In addition to academic accomplishments, the department strengthened its public engagement and student development efforts through a wide range of activities and collaborations:
- As part of its charity and outreach efforts, the department organized a bake sale to support Fountain House, Noor Thalassaemia Foundation, and Chaman Organisations.
- Organized a series of high-impact academic seminars and public lectures, including a seminar on "Parole and Probation as Essentials of Forensic Psychology" in collaboration with the Government of Punjab, a public lecture by Prof. Dr. Shabana Mir (American Islamic College, Chicago) on marriage, religion, and control and seminars and sessions focused on health and clinical psychology.
- Organized a series of mental health awareness initiatives, including the Suicide Prevention Awareness Walk to foster emotional well-being and reduce stigma around mental health within the university and broader community□
- Facilitated student volunteer participation in the PINTECH Expo, organized by PHEC and HED.
- Co-organized the 15th International Conference of the Pakistan Psychological Association (PPA) at Avari Hotel, Lahore, showcasing academic collaboration and national leadership.

New Initiatives of the Department

During the academic year 2024–2025, the Department of Applied Psychology took several strategic steps to expand its academic and training portfolio. These new initiatives are aligned with national needs, mental health trends, and the growing demand for skilled psychological professionals. Notable initiatives include:

1. Launch of BS Clinical Psychology Program

A comprehensive undergraduate program tailored to equip students with foundational and applied knowledge in clinical psychology, preparing them for advanced studies and fieldwork.

2. Introduction of MS Clinical Psychology (Self-Support Program)

This program was initiated to accommodate more number of recent graduates seeking advanced clinical training under experienced faculty.

3. Initiation of Advanced Diploma in Clinical Psychology (ADCP)

A practice-oriented postgraduate diploma designed to train clinicians in psychological assessment, diagnosis, and evidence-based therapeutic interventions.

4. Expansion of Journal Publication Efforts

The department ensured consistent publication of its HEC Y-Category recognized Journal of Research in Psychology, promoting high-quality academic research nationally and internationally.

Future Plans of Department

- 1. Launching PhD Programs in specialized areas and meeting the growing demand for expertise in specific domains of the discipline.
- 2. Establishment of a Psychological Assessment and Counseling Center at LCWU to offer affordable mental health services and practical training for students.
- 3. Introduction of Certificate Courses and Short-Term Trainings in specialized areas such as psychological testing, school counseling, trauma-informed care, and cognitive-behavioral therapies.

4. Strengthening Industry-Academia Linkages by initiating collaborative research and internship programs with hospitals, rehabilitation centers, and private psychological service providers.
5. Expansion of International Collaborations and MoUs with global universities and organizations to facilitate faculty exchange, joint research, and global exposure for students.
6. Organizing International Conferences and symposia focusing on emerging psychological issues in South Asia, mental health policy, and culturally grounded interventions.
7. Capacity Building of Faculty through regular participation in international trainings and fellowships

v. WEB TV LCWU & MEDIA Center

Introduction

The rapid advancement of digital technology has transformed communication and interaction patterns across the globe. Information now travels instantly, connecting people with wider audiences and reshaping the ways in which ideas are shared. In this environment, concise, visually engaging, and information-rich video communication has emerged as one of the most effective means of outreach.

Recognizing this shift, the Department of Mass Communication, Lahore College for Women University (LCWU), launched Web TV LCWU on April 4, 2020. The initiative was conceived by Dr. Naveed Iqbal, Assistant Professor, Department of Mass Communication / Director Web TV, during the COVID-19 pandemic to bridge the communication gap between faculty and students during lockdown. Web TV became a timely solution for disseminating lectures, research, academic information, and institutional updates at a moment when physical mobility was severely restricted.

Over the past five years, Web TV LCWU has grown into a dynamic digital platform, effectively serving students, faculty, and the wider public. Its contributions include:

- Educational Support: Dissemination of lectures, research activities, and academic policies to ensure continuity of learning during disruptions.
- Promotion of Research & Innovation: Providing a platform for discussions, research debates, and academic discourse.
- Event Coverage: Successful live streaming of LCWU's convocations, international seminars, symposiums, and conferences.
- Public Engagement: Serving as an outreach tool for knowledge sharing, innovation promotion, and community engagement.

The success of this initiative has been made possible through the consistent support of the University's leadership. Successive Vice Chancellors have endorsed the project, and the current Vice Chancellor, Prof. Dr. UzmaQuraishi, continues to patronize and strengthen Web TV LCWU.

Building upon its strong foundation, Web TV LCWU has also played a pivotal role in documenting and disseminating the university's international academic engagements. By covering major scholarly gatherings, conferences, and workshops, it has ensured that global collaborations and intellectual exchanges are shared widely with both local and international audiences. Following are the details of the research events covered and disseminated through Web TV.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCES & COLLABORATIONS (2024–2025)

During 2024–25, Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) continued its tradition of global academic engagement by hosting and collaborating in several prestigious international conferences, seminars, and workshops across diverse disciplines.

The Women Empowerment and Mentoring Program (WEMP) at Lahore College for Women University (LCWU) has emerged as a landmark initiative fostering women's leadership, academic growth, and professional empowerment. Launched under the vision of LCWU's leadership with guidance from the Higher Education Commission (HEC) and National Academy of Higher Education (NAHE), the program has created a sustainable mentoring culture for women faculty and researchers.

KEY ACHIEVEMENTS

- The inaugural WEMP cohort at LCWU involved 12 mentors guiding 27 mentees with more than 100 one-on-one mentoring engagements and six collective sessions over the first three-month cycle.
- Building on that success, the second cohort expanded to 36 mentors and 110 mentees.
- The program led to the creation of individual Professional Development Plans (PDPs) for all mentees and the identification of leadership potential among faculty, particularly women.
- Established structured mentorship model linking senior and junior faculty across disciplines.
- Developed over 130 individualized Professional Development Plans (PDPs).
- Organized policy dialogues, capacity-building workshops, and leadership training sessions.
- Expanded from 12 mentors and 27 mentees in the first cohort to 36 mentors and 110 mentees in the second.
- Created a ripple effect—mentored women now leading research, academic, and administrative initiatives.

Cohort	Mentors	Mentees	Mentor–Mentee Ratio	Major Outcomes
Cohort (2024)	12	27	1:2.25	110+ mentoring sessions, PDP developed
Cohort (2025)	36	110	1:3.05	Institutional expansion, leadership engagement

GRAPH OF SUCCESS

The bar graph below represents the growth of WEMP's mentor and mentee participation between the first and second cohorts, highlighting LCWU's expanding leadership ecosystem for women in academia.

Growth of Mentors and Mentees (Cohorts 1 & 2)

IMPACT AND FUTURE VISION

By cultivating networks of mentorship, professional planning, peer support and leadership awareness, LCWU is contributing to the broader goal of gender equity in higher education. Programs like WEMP challenge structural barriers, build institutional capacity, and empower women not just as participants in academia, but as decision-makers and change-agents.

Through WEMP, LCWU has become a pioneer in higher education for women's empowerment in Pakistan. The program's impact extends beyond mentoring—fostering confidence, research collaboration, and leadership resilience. Cohort 3 will expand international collaboration, policy research, and mentorship for women faculty across South Asia and beyond.

As a result of WEMP and related initiatives, LCWU has strengthened its role as a center of empowerment for women in higher education, enabling them to move from teaching roles to leadership, research, policy-making, and institutional governance.
